That's why Graduate School offers workshops on scientific integrity on an annual basis. You should consciously explore the rules of responsible conduct of research from the very beginning of your research endeavors and writing process eliminating any possibility of misconduct in dealing with data and references ensuring your work to be impeccable. This workshop is offered on an annual basis at the beginning of the year.

SCIENTIFIC WRITING TUTORIALS

The ability to write well in a variety of genres to different audiences from seminar papers and grant proposals to dissertations and research publications will be key to success and to your career. For the attendance of the tutorials please join directly on Greenlight.

TEACHING SKILLS

Numerous sources are available to obtain and grow the teaching skills you need to thrive as an educator. For those interested in teaching-related careers, developing teaching skills has obvious value, but if you plan to pursue jobs outside of academia, instructional techniques can also help cultivate important skills such as oral communication, active listening and problem solving. Please check with us at Graduate School or with our library for a list of extensive bibliography.

LITERATURE MANAGEMENT

The literature management program CITAVI is available as an ILIAS course unit via the library. CITAVI helps with all that's necessary for scientific literature work: from research to knowledge organization, task planning and creating the bibliography.

Work through the CITAVI course by yourself and go into more detail making a personal appointment at the library.

RESEARCH DATA MANAGEMENT

Digital research data is a special knowledge resource that ensures the traceability of research results whilst leading to new insights, e.g. if reused by other researchers. Active data management also offers advantages in everyday research, beginning with the sorting and backup of the data in the working group. Self-learning units on research data management are available on HGU's ILIAS:

ACADEMIC WRITING

Amanda Habberhsaw, Tinta Training

COMPULSORY MODULE

The English you learned at school is not sufficient for writing a dissertation or publishing articles in international journals – you need to master formal English and the writing conventions for academic texts. A key challenge is writing a clear, precise and readable text that sounds like it has been written by a native speaker.

The objective of this workshop is to improve your ability to produce clear, concise and readable scientific manuscripts.

You will leave the workshop with useful tips on how to improve the style of your writing and a greater awareness of your own strengths and weaknesses.

7. + 14.5.2024 ⚙️ 9 am – 2 pm (incl. break)

online (2 sessions = 1 compulsory module credit)

INTRODUCTION TO DATA VISUALIZATION WITH R AND GGPLOT2

Dr. Dominik Schmidt, Hochschule Geisenheim

This hands-on workshop will introduce the concepts of ggplot2 to visualize different data sets within "R" - a "free software environment for statistical computing and graphics". First steps and best practices towards publication will be discussed. R and ggplot2 offer platform independent state-of-the art data analysis capabilities in combination with fully customizable high-quality plotting tools.

22.4.2024 ⚙️ 10.15 am – 12.30 pm / 1 – 4.45 pm

online (1 elective module credit)

ACADEMIC POSTER DESIGN

Dr. Susanne Berger, Visual Science Communication

Poster sessions are an integral part of almost every scientific conference. Their purpose is to highlight research results, visualize them, and stimulate discussion. To get your audience's attention, you need a crystal clear message, a format optimized for readability, and well-chosen graphics. Above all, you need to thoroughly think through how to organize your research content according to the required format. We will seek answers to the questions: What makes a good poster a good poster? How much content should be on it? How can graphic design help to communicate your research efficiently?

Each participant has the chance to attend a 1:1 coaching session following the workshop!
