Title of the document:

Publication on the document server of the Hochschule Geisenheim University (OPUS Geisenheim). The following regulations apply:

The author permits the doctoral office of the Hochschule Geisenheim University to make the electronic version of his or her publication available permanently and irrevocably, free of charge and publicly on the Internet and on the document server as an Open Access publication, as long as this is technically possible and can be done with reasonable effort.

1. transfer of rights
For this purpose, I transfer to the Hochschule Geisenheim University the right to archive my publication(s) permanently in full text, to maintain it and to make it publicly available for use on the Internet and, if required, to make it publicly accessible on other storage media.
I am aware and understand that within the framework of the public provision according to § 53 UrhG (German Copyright Act) in its currently valid version, users of the Hochschule Geisenheim are entitled to download, save or print my document in small quantities for their own private or other use.
I retain all rights and am free to dispose of my work in any other way (e.g. partial or complete publication by a publisher) as long as this does not restrict the rights granted here.

2. ownership of rights
I assure you that the registered document(s) do not violate any legal regulations, official decrees or the rights of third parties. In particular, I assure you that I am the sole owner of the rights or that I have all the necessary rights of use. I have obtained the consent of all authors involved in publishing works. In case of doubt or in case of alleged or actual legal obstacles, I will inform the Hochschule Geisenheim immediately. I indemnify the Hochschule Geisenheim University against all claims made against it by third parties on the basis of their rights. The Hochschule Geisenheim University reserves the right to block access to a publication if there are justified reasons for an infringement of the rights of third parties.
I am responsible for the content of the documents to be published. The Hochschule Geisenheim assumes no liability for the contents and possible links provided in the publications.

3. consent to the conversion
In order to fulfil its archiving task, the Hochschule Geisenheim is entitled to convert the publication(s) into a technically different data format if required. The Hochschule Geisenheim University is not liable for possible changes resulting from conversions. The Hochschule Geisenheim University may transfer its transferred rights to a third party if this third party should generally take over the task of long-term archiving from the Hochschule Geisenheim University.

4. transfer of rights
The Hochschule Geisenheim is entitled to pass on the electronic publication(s) including the associated metadata to the German National Library in accordance with the provisions of the Law on the German National Library in its current version as well as to other document servers with the same aforementioned rights that may be used from a technical or regional point of view. There is no remuneration.

5. commercial use
A commercial use of my publication by the Hochschule Geisenheim is excluded. Reimbursements of costs or any fees prescribed by law do not constitute commercial use.

6. withdrawal of the declaration
A withdrawal of this declaration of consent is only possible with reference to § 42UrhG (work no longer corresponds to the conviction of the author).
