

And another Semester is over...

ASTA NEWS

Dear students,

we're reporting back one last time before the winter semester 20/21 is over! About the university hoodies: unfortunately, we are not permitted to hand them out until the university allows us to (which will likely not happen before the lockdown has been lifted). We will share any news with you on this topic as soon as possible.

Until February 7th, you still have the opportunity to give feedback on your lectures - praise and criticism is appreciated, as it will help improve university lectures! Just click on the red evaluation button next to each event in StudIP.

Lastly, we want to wish you good luck with your exams and also say goodbye to the students leaving us in March. We wish you all the best in the big, wide world!

Open Dry Locations - How to Preserve Biodiversity Hotspots

online event

In the past 150 years, humanity has drastically changed the Central European cultural landscape through continuing intensification of use. Formerly practiced grazing has mostly been given up. This change of use has led to the disappearance of certain landscape structures such as open dry locations.

During this event, the typical challenges of grazing such dry locations on sand and limestone will be presented. Sign up here.
